Bomb Explosion At UPS Office Kills 1, Injures 8

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A package bomb exploded while being examined at a United Parcel Service center here early today, killing one man and injuring eight others, police said.

Police Lt. Ralph Pampena said a UPS worker had removed a package wrapped in brown paper from a line to inspect it because the ZIP code didn't match the address.

He said other workers reported seeing wires sticking out of the package, and that it exploded when the worker started to unwrap it.

The dead man was not immediately identified.

Other workers reportedly told police they understood a bomb threat had been phoned to the UPS office, which handles western Pennsylvania deliveries.

Dozens of policemen sealed off the site shortly after the 2:55 a.m. explosion.

Local hospitals said six men were in satisfactory condition and two others were released after treatment.

One man working in the blast area said: "I heard it and saw it. I saw a big ... a ball of flame."

According to another worker: "I saw a big blast and it knocked me against the truck. I came over to the other side and there were bodies laying all over the middle of the floor."

A representative of Allegheny General Hospital said four men had been admitted, and all were in satisfactory condition with "general lacerations and contusions."

At St. Johns Hospital two men, Dale McGinley, 23, and Robert Bahl, 26, both of Pittsburgh, were reported in satisfactory condition.

Two other men were released after treatment for minor injuries.

House Votes To Block Data On Race, Sex From Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted to block the federal government from obtaining sex and race data from schools, ignoring warnings that this would stop enforcement of civil rights laws.

The House endorsed on Wednesday, 212-170, an amendment by Rep. Marjorie Holt, R-Md., to prevent schools getting federal funds from being compelled to classify teachers or students by race, religion, sex or national origin.

Senate leaders will try to amend or knock out the Holt amendment, probably next week.

HEW Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger said the Holt amendment would end HEW's authority to enforce civil rights laws. Speaking on behalf of the Ford administration, Weinberger urged the amendment's defeat.

If it became law, the measure also could affect busing suits brought by private groups, such as civil rights organizations, which use government statistics in preparing desegregation cases.

During the House debate, a congressional coalition of blacks, Spanish-speaking and those of Asian descent and civil rights-oriented white members said the Holt amendment would go far beyond Rep. Holt's intention of ending student busing.

They said it would preclude HEW from gathering the needed data to implement the entire 1964 civil rights act barring racial discrimination, the 1972 antisex discrimination act, the bilingual education act and various Indian education acts.

"This amendment is an abomination. It strikes at the heart of the work of this Congress for the last 20 years," said Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y.

The amendment would signal the country that Congress sanctions "a policy of apartheid in American schools," Rep. Parren Mitchell, D-Md., said.

Rep. Holt disagreed that her amendment would have such sweeping impact. She said it was a more sophisticated method of expressing Congress' wish to do away with school busing for desegregation purposes.

She said HEW investigators have been manufacturing civil rights cases by collecting data from schools about students and teachers.

Fuel Allocation Looms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration, conceding that voluntary efforts to reduce oil imports have been unsatisfactory, may return to the policies that produced long lines at gasoline stations last winter.

Treasury Secretary William E. Simon and Frank A. Zarb, the nominee to head the Federal Energy Administration, said Wednesday that one possible move to reduce petroleum consumption is to reimpose last winter's fuel allocation plan.

Their statements came at the same time the auto industry reported November sales fell 35 per cent, making it the second lowest level for the month in 15 years. The President's Council of Economic Advisers also said Wednesday the national jobless rate will go above 7 per cent next year but the rate of inflation will slow down.

Simon said the machinery to allocate gasoline and other oil products to dealers is still in place from the Arab oil embargo of last winter and it needs only to be activated again.

Zarb said it is possible the administration would limit oil imports effective Jan. 1 in a "self-imposed embargo." This would be coupled with a fuel allocation plan limiting domestic consumption to 90 per cent of fuel consumed in 1972, Zarb said.

Both officials discussed the allocations as one step that could be taken if President Ford's voluntary energy conservation program does not work. Zarb gave his comments in testimony before a congressional panel while Simon spoke at a news briefing.

Simon has said the government will know for certain by late December or early January whether the voluntary program will work. He has made clear his doubts that it will.

In discussing the depressed auto sale figures, auto industry analysts said the prolonged downturn in car sales was the most severe since the 1958 recession, but predicted it had hit bottom.

Chairman Alan Greenspan of the President's Council of Economic advisers said layoffs, especially in the auto industry, are worse than anticipated. He said the jobless figures for November will show a "very significant increase" from October.

He predicted a gradual easing of the inflation rate to an annual rate of 6 or 7 per cent by spring. U.S. inflation has been soaring at a rate of between 10 and 12 per cent during the past year.

In other economic developments:

—The United Mine Workers ratified a new contract, unofficial returns showed, paving the way for an end of the nationwide coal strike.

—A congressional study recommended ending most public welfare programs, including food stamps, in favor of tax credits, new subsistence allowances and work incentives.

—The House, exercising its budget control authority for the first time, refused to allow Ford to cut back spending authority for this fiscal year by $540.6 million.

—Diamond Crystal Salt Co., the nation's No. 3 producer, said it is raising salt prices 5 to 12 per cent, effective Feb. 2.

—The Federal Power Commission approved higher rates for natural gas.

Coal Pact OKd; Mines To Reopen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Striking coal miners have approved a new nationwide contract by a margin of around 57 per cent, clearing the way for a reopening of some mines as early as next week.

United Mine Workers President Arnold Miller planned to sign the agreement today with the Bituminous Coal Operators Association after announcing the official results of the ratification vote.

As of Wednesday night with about 66,000 votes counted of 75,000 ballots cast, about 57 per cent of the miners had voted to accept the three-year contract, sources said.

The new contract becomes effective at 12:01 a.m. Friday. Although most of the 120,000 striking UMW members are not expected back to work before Monday, industry officials say some miners may decide to take advantage of weekend overtime rates and begin work Friday or Saturday to prepare the mines for reopening.

"Once the mines are found safe it won't take long to get back into operation," said an industry spokesman.

The 24-day-old strike forced the closing of mines producing 70 per cent of the nation's coal and idled more than 25,000 workers in the coal-related steel and railroad industries. Government forecasts of up to 400,000 layoffs resulting from a four-week walkout never materialized.

Miller earlier predicted ratification by a 60 per cent margin in the first rank-and-file vote in the UMW's 84-year history. In the past, only union leaders approved contracts.

The initial vote returns were delayed by heavy snow in the Appalachian coal fields and for a while there was doubt whether the pact would be approved. But less-than-expected opposition developed in two key Ohio and West Virginia districts and the margin of approval increased as the final tally came in Wednesday.

The contract — richest in the union's history — provides for a 64 per cent boost in miners' wages and benefits over three years. Coal producers now are reporting record profits, and they are expected to pass on the higher labor costs by raising prices.

Miners who now earn $42 to $50 a day will receive wage increases of 10 per cent for the first year, 4 per cent the second and 3 per cent the third, plus quarterly cost-of-living increases starting in February.

The pact provides for the union's first sick leave. It increases from 20 to 30 the number of paid holidays and vacation days and improves pension benefits. Most of the opposition centered on the size of the first-year wage hike and the lack of a clause permitting local strikes over grievances.

Gilligan Requests Recount Of Votes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan may make his formal request today for a recount of Nov. 5 election results in which he lost to Republican James A. Rhodes by 11,414 votes.

Gilligan, preparing to leave for this weekend's national Democratic midterm convention at Kansas City, continued to withhold the request Wednesday pending further study of the official results.

The Democratic governor said previously he intended to take most of the five-day period allowed him by law, not only to look closely at the returns, but also to allow legal advisers to negotiate recount procedures with GOP Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

Brown has refused at least one request from David Young, an attorney representing the Gilligan forces, for polling place witnesses to have the authority to challenge specific ballots. Brown's refusal could lead to court action, Young indicated.

Meanwhile, Rhodes was back at his desk Wednesday in his real estate development office, a half block from the Statehouse, following a post-election holiday in the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., area.

James Duerk, the governor-elect's press secretary, said Rhodes was going ahead with efforts to establish a transitional government although it could be two more weeks before the results of the recount are known.

"You've got to begin moving," the press secretary said.

The day after the narrow election victory, Rhodes said he would not meet again with reporters and make any major announcements until the results showed him the winner beyond doubt.

Meanwhile, former Finance Director Howard Collier, who will head the Office of Budget and Management for one year for his former boss, returned late Wednesday to his home in Toledo after two days of briefings by John Olsen, who currently heads the office.

Collier said he needs to put his affairs in order at the Medical College of Ohio at Toledo, where he has seven years left in a contract as its vice president for finance.

Collier, who returns to Columbus next Monday, said he has been granted a year's leave to help Rhodes get his budgetary operations under way.

Collier was director of finance during the second of Rhodes' two previous four-year terms as governor, and before that was assistant director.

State law provides $30,000 for an incoming governor to employ staff and prepare for his forthcoming administration. Collier has two aides in newly established quarters on the 11th floor of the new 44-story State Office Tower.

Ohio Storm Death Toll Reaches 20

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The two-day storm that dumped record amounts of moisture-laden snow across northern Ohio led to at least 20 deaths and still has left schools closed in at least five counties.

Delayed reports showed today that heart attacks resulting from shoveling the heavy snow claimed at least 15 lives. Traffic accidents killed at least three others.

The latest death reported came Wednesday in Akron. Alo Macon, 65, of Akron died of an apparent heart attack after shoveling snow. Akron, one of the areas hardest hit by the storm that began Sunday, received 22.3 inches, a record for the Akron-Canton airport.

Most of the deaths occurred Monday as residents from Toledo eastward attempted to clear sidewalks and driveways of the clinging but still wind-whipped snow that stranded an estimated 16,000 motorists, closed hundreds of schools for one or more days, and left thousands of homes and businesses without electricity.

School officials in Wayne, Medina, Stark, Summit and Portage counties reported virtually all schools still were closed today and said only teachers, not students, were reporting at the rest. For the pupils, the storm extended the time off that began Nov. 27 for the Thanksgiving Day holiday.

Utility spokesmen in Lorain and Huron counties, where hundreds of homes still were without power late Wednesday, said service had been restored to all but about 30 isolated locations by this morning and that the rest should be back in service late today.

AMA To Support National Health Insurance Plan

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The American Medical Association says it would support a form of mandatory national health insurance to prevent passage of a version calling for major federal government involvement.

It is the first time the AMA has expressed a willingness to accept any version of mandatory national health insurance for all Americans.

The AMA's policy-setting House of delegates agreed Wednesday with its board of trustees' position that the AMA should accept mandatory employer coverage — as long as the employee could reject it.

The AMA opposes administration of a national health insurance plan through the Social Security Administration and extending the coverage only through private insurance companies.

Plane Crash Fatal To 191 In Far East

COLOMBO, Sri Lanka (AP) — Parachutists were dropped on a rocky hill today where a chartered Dutch airliner loaded with Moslem pilgrims crashed and burned, the airline reported. Police said apparently none of the 191 persons reported aboard survived.

The DC8 of the Dutch charter line Martinair was carrying Indonesians on a pilgrimage to Mecca, Islam's holy city in Saudi Arabia. It crashed in a rainstorm Wednesday night about 70 miles southeast of Colombo in an area known as the Seven Virgins for the seven rugged peaks dotting the landscape.

The pilot was preparing to land at Colombo's Bandaranaike airport, and police said he gave no indication of any trouble.

Martinair said the parachutists were dropped after helicopters were unable to land at the crash site because of continuing bad weather. A spokesman said persons in the helicopters saw no survivors.

Martinair officials said the plane carried 182 passengers and a crew of seven Dutch and two Indonesians. They said the plane came from Surabaya, Indonesia, and was preparing to land in Colombo for refueling when it crashed.

Ohio Transportation Master Plan Costly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 10-year master plan for transportation in Ohio outlines four alternate levels for future spending on roads and mass transit ranging in cost from 18 to 108 per cent above current costs.

The report, scheduled for release later this month, points out in painstaking detail the avenues of approach and the cost of the ticket in tax dollars for continued development of the state transportation system.

The master plan was ordered by the General Assembly when it created the Department of Transportation in 1972. Work on the report began the following year but the major structuring of the document has been accomplished over the past six months.

The plan is still not in its final form. But a draft report shows that even modest improvements in Ohio's highways, mass transit, railroads, ports and aviation programs will cost taxpayers a considerable amount of money.

Projecting current costs, a "representative program" would run about $280 million a year over the next decade, an increase of $28 million over the transportation budget for the current fiscal year.

At this level the state would be unable to continue a highway capital improvements program beyond 1978 and a $250 million backlog in highway maintenance would continue to mount.

Ohio's participation in the federally sponsored Urban Mass Transit Grants program would expire next June, aviation programs could be maintained but not expanded, and "minimal activities" could continue in railroad and port development.

For an additional $52 million a year, the state could implement half of the capital improvements program for highways and maintain a "minimal" maintenance program.

At this "minor funding level," 18 per cent above current costs, Ohio also could continue its 20 per cent participation in the federal mass transit program and slightly expand activity in aviation, rail and port programs.

At a "major funding level" — $303 million or 108 per cent over the representative program — all available federal highway funds could be matched with state money and a full capital improvements program and "high quality" road maintenance program could be undertaken.

This ideal would permit the state to participate in "all approved short range transit plans" and some "presently contemplated" bus and rail projects. Aviation, rail and port activity could be expanded significantly.

Officials in the Transportation Department have no illusions that the major funding level will be approved in the 111th General Assembly.

Between the major and minor levels, the report offers "moderate" $175 million and "substantial" $239 million approaches that are respectively 62 and 85 per cent above the current level.

The plan presents six alternatives for raising money to support any increased transportation funding; all involve taxes both old and new.

Increases could be sought in the gasoline excise tax, the highway use tax for trucks and the flat-rate license plate tax, although all three would have distinct disadvantages, the planners note.

The fuel tax, the report points out, "is regressive, adding to the regressivity of the Ohio tax structure."

Ohio is already "near the top of the list" in axle mile taxes on trucks, and only 33 counties take advantage of the local authority to tack $5 onto the yearly license plate fee. That would seem to bode ill for acceptance of an increase in that tax.

As an alternative to the flat rate license fee, the report observes that a graduated license tax is "more productive" and is in use in 23 states.

Instead of increasing the gasoline tax, the planners give lawmakers the option of instituting a sales tax on fuel, but warn: "Although a precedent has been set by nine states, there is not an overwhelming acceptance of this tax."

Another new tax could be created by starting a personal property tax of up to 10 mills on automobiles, but the report cautions that "The tendency throughout the country is to abolish personal property taxes."

All of this is expected to cause a dilemma for Ohio Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes, who pledged during his campaign that no new taxes would be imposed, but who is noted for his road building propensities.

A spokesman for Rhodes said Wednesday the governor-elect will have no comment on the report until it is officially released.

The draft document does not endorse or recommend any of the myriad of alternatives for funding levels and taxing that it outlines.

"We just wanted to show what could be done and how much it would cost," a spokesman for the Department of Transportation said.

The spokesman said Transportation Director J. Phillip Richley might include some recommendations in a covering memo when the master plan is presented to outgoing Gov. John J. Gilligan in about two weeks.

DuPont Announces Promotion

JIMMIE R. SMITH

The promotion of Jimmie R. Smith to the position of foreman in the Works Engineering section of the local Du Pont Plant has been announced.

Smith and his wife Shirley and three children live at Route 5, and are members of the St. Paul United Methodist Church.

He came with the company Sept. 7, 1965 as a manufacturing trainee in the Mylar Finishing area. He was transferred later to the Kapton-Teflon plant finishing area. Shortly after the first of the year in 1966, Smith was transferred to the maintenance section and then to the position of mechanic.

In the community, Smith is the senior warden of Lodge 509 F and AM of Amanda, a member of Scippo Lodge 255, and a member of the Knights of Pythias.

He is also a veteran of the United States Air Force in which organization he served as a sergeant.

The new form is the son of Roger and Ellen Smith of Route 1, Stoutsville.

deduct these losses even though my business won't show much income?

(A) Yes, you can. An activity is considered a business if it is entered into and carried on in good faith for the purpose of making a profit. Two characteristic elements of a business are regularity of activities and transactions and the production of income.

In a given year, if no income or a small amount of income is coupled with expenditures that produce a loss, there may be a question whether a business was carried on in that year. However, absence of income in itself does not prevent you from deducting the ordinary and necessary expenses connected with your business.

(Q) I just finished doing jury duty on a two-month long case. Will I have to pay tax on the fee I received for serving on the jury?

(A) Yes, jury duty fees represent earned income and they are taxable.

(Q) My great uncle died recently and left me some trust income in the form of some dividends. How do I report this on my tax return?

(A) Each item of income retains the same character in your hands as it had in the hands of the trust. So, if items of income distributed to you include, for example, dividends of domestic corporations, tax-exempt interest or capital gains, they will retain the same character in your hands for the purposes of tax treatment. You should report your dividends on line 10a of Form 1040, U.S. Individual Income Tax Return.

(Q) I rent a large safe deposit box for keeping some small pieces of art and important papers. Is the rent on the box tax deductible?

(A) Safe deposit box rent is deductible if the box is used for the storage of taxable, income-producing stocks, bonds, and investment-related papers and documents. The rent is not deductible if the box is used for personal effects or tax-exempt securities.

Servicemen's Yule Trees Said Stolen

NEVADA CITY, Calif. (AP) — A stack of 2,500 Christmas trees, baled for shipment to U.S. servicemen overseas, has been stolen.

The trees were among 5,100 being readied to brighten the holiday for servicemen abroad through Operation Christmas. The project was begun in 1967 by Douglas Allan, a Vietnam War veteran. He estimated their value at $17,500.

"Regardless of whether the trees were stolen, we still have an obligation and we are going to come across," said Allan, a Eureka, Calif. car salesman. "It just makes our job 10 times harder."

A sheriff's deputy said an allpoints bulletin was issued Tuesday night to try to locate the stolen trees, believed taken sometime Monday or Tuesday.

Allan thought as many as three big trucks would be needed for the heist.

Allan said his organization, made up of about 40 veterans and students from Humboldt State University, had cut the trees in the Tahoe National Forest Nov. 1 in a thinning and reforestation project supervised by the Forest Service, which donated the trees.

The 5,100 trees were destined for servicemen at 23 bases around the world, Allan said. He said 3,000 were to go to the Far East and 2,100 to the Mediterranean.

Mothers Quickly Work Outside

NEW YORK (AP) — Millington F. McCloy, an executive of a personnel-search firm, worked late on a Friday, had her baby on Saturday, and was on the phone from her hospital bed with her clients on Monday. About two months later, she was back in her Park Avenue office and little Daniel was at home with a baby-sitter.

Whether they're dedicated to career, forced by economic necessity, or compelled by sheer restlessness, more and more new mothers are returning to work within weeks of their baby's arrival, leaving the joys and duties of child care to someone else.

According to the Bureau of Labor

Statistics, in March 1974, there were 7,977,000 mothers with children under the age of 3. Of that group, 32.4 per cent of the mothers were in the labor force, up from 30.2 per cent in 1973 and 21.8 per cent in 1964.

Despite continuing debate about a mother's role and importance in successful infant rearing and many company policies allowing up to one year maternity leave, these women have willingly and in some cases eagerly opted to push pencils instead of baby carriages.

Though private, professional baby-sitters are expensive, the mothers say it's worth the $80 or more a week to keep up with their careers as well as to ease any lingering anxieties about their baby's welfare.

Some mothers working in lower-paying jobs have no choice but to place their children in day care centers. However, there are hardly enough such facilities available.

As an assistant vice-president of Handy Associates, Mrs. Millington "Millie" McCloy was well able to afford a $30 a day nurse for Daniel, now 5 months old. She said she wouldn't be comfortable in the role of a full-time mother and housewife.

"I have always been very committed to my career and it simply would not have been to my advantage to drop out and care for a baby," said Mrs. McCloy. "I've always been able to keep a lot of balls in the air. Even though one has to make sacrifices, I was determined to combine both worlds."

But sometimes, mothering during office hours has presented some unique problems.

Even though she was back at work on a regular schedule, Mrs. McCloy wanted her baby to have mother's milk. It was too difficult to go all the way home at lunchtime. So while her male counterparts socialized with martinis Mrs. McCloy excused herself, collected the milk from her breasts in a glass, and asked the astonished waiters for a dish of ice so the milk would keep until she could take it home to Daniel.

Four businesses, four apartments, and two vacant offices, some dating back 130 years, were virtually destroyed by fire early Saturday morning in downtown Circleville. Although official estimates of damage have not been tabulated, loss caused by the fire was roughly estimated at $250,000. However, that figure may climb as firemen sift through the debris.

Don't Be A Time Bomb!

Now comes the season of alcoholic parties, poor weather, long hours of darkness, and holiday relaxation—which, experience reveals, add up to a large volume of traffic accidents and fatalities.

Often the lush who drives can be spotted in traffic and avoided by other drivers or removed by police before he causes trouble. But the moderate drinker who never allows himself more than a couple of highballs at a party and who prides himself on being a "careful" driver is a delayed dynamite charge.

Taking to the road, he may operate his car properly enough under normal conditions. But let him come face to face with an emergency and he explodes, his irresponsible driving menacing every person on the road.

All this leads to one conclusion. The moderate drinker—if he drives with intoxicants in him—has no more right to regard himself as a careful driver than the lush.

The only careful driver is the one who is careful not to drive when he has been indulging.

Brotherhood Done Up

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — People ... Places

Joint Chief of Staff Gen. George Brown and Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz, the famous ecumenical leaders, have had their go at the Jews and Catholics. That leaves unscathed only the Protestants, Moslems and Zen-Buddhists. But those three had better not lapse into a period of euphoria, particularly during this month when brotherhood is traditionally rife. They'll never know when some cornball will pop.

Judge John J. Sirica's 3-man medical team came back from San Clemente with news that probably disappointed a certain number of Americans. The team reported that former President Richard Nixon's physical (and probably psychological) condition is as bad as Nixon's own doctors have been telling us for months. The abdicated President will not be able to give even a deposition for some time, much less buzz off to Washington.

The non-believers had been scoffing that it was just a put-on on Nixon's part, a tricky trick, a dodge to escape the ordeal of appearing as a witness against his old chums, and against himself for that matter.

Variety, the succinct Bible of Broadway whose immortal headline, HIX NIX STIX PIX, ran above a story of how middle America rejected films depicting country themes, should have heralded the Sirica medical panel's report: DICK'S sick does decree.

What the court medicos reported is that Nixon did not inflate his leg and pretend it was phlebitis; that he did not insert the clots; that he did not spend an hour in make-up having a pallor applied; that he did not join Weight Watchers just to look emaciated as he left the hospital.

It reminds one of a perhaps apocryphal story about the headstone on the grave of an indignant lady hypochondriac:

I TOLD you I was sick!

We've had some second thoughts about a recent knock on the Little League for ruling foreign teams out of its annual World Series at Williamsport, Pa.

The original announcement was poorly phrased, and the suggestion at the end of it that there would be no further comment was, of course, preposterous. Sight was lost of the fact that foreign teams are as welcome as a pay raise in the two older divisions of Little League ball. The main editorial blasts directed at Pete McGovern and other Little League officials were built around the proposition that we were lousy sports and could no longer tolerate seeing our kids humiliated by the likes of Taiwan's Little League team. Taiwan won the last four series in the littlest of the Little Leagues.

Now it develops that the reason the Little League took the move was that the Taiwan government simply was overdoing a game intended as fun for little boys. It was proselytizing promising prospects as callously as our distinguished universities bribe high school football and basketball stars.

"Boys, 12 years old, wanted; no shrimps need apply," the notices through Taipei and the villages must have read. Those who were accepted found full-time work, training to be superlative young ballplayers. Practice sessions last six hours a day under a full-time paid coach. The parents of a good player are sometimes moved from a remote village and given room and board in the camp where their son is being honed. Part of the training is instruction in trick warm-ups, like the Harlem Globe Trotters of today and the St. Louis Gas House Gang of old.

Schooling is secondary, of course, as it was when Australia was busting young teenagers out of high schools and teaching them how to win and hold the Davis Cup.

For a clear look at one of America's least wept for and unsung military heroes, get a load of "The General" on CBS-TV this Thursday, Dec. 5. The subject is George C. Marshall, who ran the greatest war in history behind a Pentagon desk. In a sense, he was superior to FDR, Harry Truman, Winston Churchill, Joe Stalin, Eisenhower, Montgomery, etc. etc.

This is the fourth special in the American Parade series, narrated excellently by Ben Gazzara, and the best to date. So meet big freckled George, who never even went to West Point, and who turned down a million dollars for his memoirs. He was something very special in our lives.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The initiator may have been Paul McCracken, an economic adviser to President Ford, when he described the United States as being in a V-shaped recession.

That was on Oct. 23, when McCracken, now returned to his teaching job at the University of Michigan but still consulted by the administration, attempted to graphically describe the economy.

Gross National Product would drop sharply, about 4 per cent from mid-1974 to mid-1975, he said, but then would recover just as sharply.

"A V-shape recession is better than a shallow thing that dogs on and on because you usually get a sharp reversal and recovery," he said.

Since then economists have been striving to illustrate their view of things with letters of the alphabet, saucers, fishhooks. And it seems they might be headed in the direction of astrological signs.

Immediately after McCracken expressed his opinion, a large element in the community of economists gave their opinion that the recession would be shaped more like a U, and some said an L would better depict what might happen.

The U recession, as its shape suggests, would be less abrupt than a V, both in its descent and recovery. Believers in the L recession share McCracken's view of a steep slide but remain skeptical of a quick upturn.

One of the more picturesque images is that offered by Saul Klamman, vice president and chief economist of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, who told members this week:

"We reject the view of a Vshaped business cycle, descriptive of a sharper upturn beginning around midyear.

"A more reasonable shape is that of a tilted fishhook, descriptive of a slow, grudging upturn not beginning until the fourth quarter of 1975 and not regaining the first-quarter level."

Signs and symbols convey more meaning than long and complex statistical descriptions. They are a shorthand; you must concede they constitute a more meaningful use of language than the following attempts:

"Sideways waffling," a term used by Commerce Secretary Frederick Dent, the meaning of which has really never been deciphered; "slumpflation," as used by President Ford to describe a combined slump and inflation; and "stagflation," used by many economists to describe a stagnant, inflated economy.

A check-mark economy, one with a short dip and a long rise, is much more descriptive, and far more acceptable.

Dear Editor:

I think it is so sad to read the profane words spoken by ex-President Nixon on the Watergate tapes. It was stated sometime ago that he was a deeply religious man. May I point out the word "religious" does not necessarily mean religious concerning God. One may be religious at anything.

However, a Christian person (one who has a personal relationship with Jesus Christ, "The Son of The Living God") is truly a religious person.

It is also sad for me to acknowledge that I had a part in electing this man to office.

Sincerely Yours,
MRS. FAYE

Farm Electric Costs Spiral

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government survey shows farmers paid 19 per cent higher electric bills last summer than they did the year before while the amount of power they actually used climbed only 3 per cent.

The Agriculture Department said the average farm electric bill was $28.80 per month, up $4.60 from a similar survey made in the summer of 1973. Meanwhile, USDA said in its monthly report on farm prices, the average farm used 1,084 kilowatts a month, compared with 1,048 a year earlier.

Regionally, the monthly electric bill per farm ranged from an average of $16.80 in the Southeast to $73.50 in the Pacific states. California was shown to have the most electricity consumed per farm, 4,600 kilowatts a month, and West Virginia the least with 580 per month.

Today In History

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

How is it decided if a person is hard of hearing or deaf?
Miss J. B. S., Calif.

Dear Miss S.:

There is no clear-cut distinction between being deaf or hard of hearing.

Some people with a hearing impairment try to use this distinction in an effort not to come face to face with the reality that a problem exists.

When a person cannot hear distinctly ver the telephone, he is deaf.

When a person cannot listen to the television and radio at levels that are not bothersome to other people, he is deaf.

When a person cannot carry on normal social conversation, he is deaf.

Once this simple concept is understood, the deaf, the deafened, the hard of hearing, or any, euphemistic variation thereof, will be more inclined to confront the problem and do something about it.

The claim, "I can hear everybody except those who mumble," is a familiar one to ear specialists. The fact is, those people have hearing problems and it doesn't matter if they're called "deaf" or "hard of hearing."

What does matter is that there are tests which definitely show the degree of hearing impairment. These are performed with tuning forks that range from very low to very high pitches, and indicate hearing deficiencies.

Another test, done with the audiometer, elicits a permanent record of hearing levels which later can be compared with subsequent tests, in order to study any progression of deafness.

Don't let terminology keep you from having your hearing tested and getting any help that you may need to improve it.

Is there any way to remove the "stretch marks" on the abdomen?
Mrs. C. M. E., Ky.

Dear Mrs. E.:

There is virtually little that can be done to erase these marks. Following pregnancy, expansion of the breasts and the abdominal wall can cause breaks in the underlying layers of the skin.

Someone once called these stretch marks the "hash stripes of a proud mother."

Expensive hormone creams and gadgets will not remove the marks.

Lung Cancer Said Nearing Calamity

CHICAGO (AP) — "Cancer of the lung is rapidly approaching the dimensions of a national calamity in this country," a medical scientist warns.

He cited an American Cancer Society estimate that 91,000 persons will be stricken with lung cancer in 1975 and that 81,000 will die of the disease during the year.

And he said cigarette smoking is almost entirely responsible for lung cancer.

"A man who smokes two packs a day has about as much chance of surviving as a bull in Spain," said Dr. Bernard Roswit of New York. He added that death from lung cancer is rising among women.

Roswit made the comments Tuesday in a report at the annual meeting of the Radiological Society of North America on a study begun in 1958 at Veterans Administration hospitals.

Roswit, a radiologist at the Bronx VA hospital, is chairman of the group of physicians evaluating the use of radiation in the treatment of lung cancer.

He told reporters that he has been giving papers at the society's meetings for 25 years and that "this is the first time I've felt so deeply depressed."

He said that the majority of lung cancer cases will be too far advanced to benefit from surgery by the time they are diagnosed.

And drugs and radiation offer little hope for either curing the cancer or extending the patient's life by very much, he added.

Since 1958, the VA doctors have studied 8,000 patients with lung cancer, using 13 different treatments or combinations of treatment—including radiation, drugs and placebos, or sugar pills.

Roswit reported on 1,279 of the 8,000 patients for whom there was some hope of treatment success.

Even so, two years after treatment in this group only 3.8 per cent were still alive. And only 1.5 per cent survived for as long as five years.

"That's a deadly piece of information, to say the least," Roswit told newsmen. He said 98 per cent of the 8,000 patients in the study were cigarette smokers.

Tax Cuts In Future?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Broad tax cuts have been advocated by two leading administration economists as a tool to help pull the nation out of a recession if the economy can't recover on its own.

However, both officials say it's too early to move ahead with general tax relief now. Chairman Alan Greenspan and William J. Fellner, members of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said the plan should be pursued as a top priority if government stimulation of the economy becomes necessary.

They said the tax relief, if necessary, should be applied after the economy hits bottom, which the administration expects this spring.

Greenspan characterized his proposal as purposely vague "for fear of being interpreted as announcing some significant change in this administration's policy. The Council of Economic Advisers doesn't make policy."

Meanwhile, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said that President Ford still regards inflation as "the real fundamental cause of the current recession" and won't drastically alter his economic policies because "we must cure inflation once and for all." Nessen also said Tuesday that Ford is frustrated because Congress has not quickly adopted his economic proposals.

They'll Do It Every Time

Sneek-A-Peek

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Cold winter nights call for a story in front of a cheery fire. Try one of these new books one evening soon.

If your youngest complains that mummies and daddies have all the fun, enjoy with them "If I Had My Way" by Norma Klein. Ellie dreams that she and her parents have exchanged places. Wait till you see this pint sized dictator in action. She struts about ordering her parents to brush their teeth and play quietly while she mutters "grown-ups sure are a lot of trouble . . . but I guess they're worth it." This is a knockout with its full page pictures in hot oranges and pinks. And it's not really subversive; just fun.

Roberto, a city child also has a nighttime adventure in Jack Keat's latest book, "Dreams." From his window he sees a pet kitten threatened by a dog. How he rescues the cat without leaving his room is the theme of this imaginative book. As usual, this Caldecott award-winning artist has produced a visual treat for little ones.

Another beauty is "Our Animal Friends at Maple Hill Farm." It overflows with noisy, fat, playful, cuddly and, yes, even bad-tempered animals. In addition to the barn animals even the cricket behind the refrigerator and the mouse in the pantry are included. There are hours of entertainment in this detailed picture of farm life.

"Noah's Ark" also brings to children the familiar old story with all of God's creatures from two ladybugs to two elephants. As a modern touch two poodles have been added to the standard assortment of animals. For the youngest children.

If there are any parents who haven't heard of the Radlauer's, now's your chance. The latest of these colorful, easy reading books is "Ready, Get Set, Whoa!" Bright photographs help children learn in this guide to horses and horsemanship.

When children want a dinosaur book, they want pictures big enough to see every detail vividly. "Dinosaur Story" by Joanna Cole has just such drawings. In addition, the text has large print and a vocabulary simple enough for first and second graders.

"Rosie and Michael" is a tale of undying friendship through good times and bad. Rosie and Michael are a pleasant change from the sweet-faced, too good to be true angels who usually inhabit books on friendship. These kids like each other and aren't above playing practical jokes. But, together they'll put up a united front against any outsider who would put either of them down. For all ages.

"Barry, the Bravest Saint Bernard" is also a story of friendship and devotion. Based on a true story, the amazing rescues of this Swiss hero are on the record. This version for young readers will be popular with any dog-lover. And that includes just about everybody.

There is something new, too, for elementary children who want to know about Indians. "Brave Eagle's Account of the Fetterman Fight" tells of the Sioux's determined warfare to save their land. Short and colorful the pictures based on authentic Indian art are real attention getters.

Come on in. Get acquainted with some of the beautiful new children's books.

Wasting Energy Said Way Of Life

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Wasting energy has been an American way of life, according to the associate director of the energy program at the Battelle Memorial Institute.

"The thinking was that if an oil well ran dry, well then you just moved on and dug another," said Richard Anderson. "Natural gas was something you burned to get rid of, and coal, why that was dirt cheap."

In a speech to the National Pupil Transportation Conference on Wednesday, Anderson underlined the problem of waste in energy usage.

"Americans today waste nearly 20 per cent of the energy they use," Anderson said. "Since that is the exact amount of fuel that America has to import, cutting down waste would eliminate all those complex foreign problems."

Oil, America's No. 1 energy source, is also No. 1 on the endangered energy sources list, according to the researcher from Columbus, Ohio.

If no more sources of oil are found, the amount of oil that can easily be gotten out of the ground will last America 12 years, Anderson reported.

"We've gotten all the easy oil we're going to get," he said. "It looks like we're going to save the hard ones for last."

Anderson said a major problem could be solved if oil companies could recover all the oil in a deposit. However, only about 30 per cent is normally recovered.

"It's always been easier just to dig another well than to figure out how to get the other 70 per cent out of the ground," he said.

Natural gas has been a commodity which has been traditionally treated lightly, Anderson reported. He said even as late as last summer companies were urging families to switch to natural gas barbecues.

"The price of gas has been kept low so that the false assumption has been created that if gas is cheap, you should use a lot of it," Anderson said.

The result of wasted energy sources has put America in a drastic situation, Anderson reported.

"It's a lot worse than last year," he said. "The lines won't be going around the block at gas stations, but I hope this won't delude people from seeing that the whole energy situation picture is still grim."

Anderson said help may be on the way, but it is still far away.

It's Not So Safe Down On The Farm

CHICAGO (AP) — Prairie Farmer magazine reports that rural crime is continuing its sharp upward trend. In 1973, all crime was up 14.6 per cent over the previous year in rural areas. Violent crime, including murder, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault, was up 28.9 per cent. Property crime, which includes burglary, larceny and auto theft, was up 14.4 per cent.

Prairie Farmer also has found that more youths are involved in crime than ever before. It says the number of rural youngsters under 18 who were arrested for murder increased 123.5 per cent over 1972 and for narcotics offenses there was a 56.9 per cent increase.

Circleville Branch AAUW Hears Discussion By Panel

A panel discussion was the program for the November meeting of Circleville Branch of AAUW in the meeting room of Pickaway County Historical Society.

Wilma Ehrlich, program chairman, introduced the panel: Sharyn Blecha, Joy Myers, Laura Leckrone, Yvonne Lackey and Sharon Hoffer, and the moderator, Elinor Flierl. They spoke on the topic "Family Planning" with each giving her opinion.

They pointed out that there is a need to teach people to have children for the right reasons. A child is to be desperately wanted, a family must not be forced to use the plan if it is against their religion or moral beliefs, and people must be sure to use whatever method of family planning decided on.

The panel also said that one answer to over-population is to make people aware they have to make responsible decisions and they have to educate young people to improve the quality of life. The local Family Planning Clinic in Circleville was discussed.

Marie Gerhardt conducted a brief business session. Barb Hovermale told

Some Gift Ideas For Outdoorsmen

By JAMES F. DAUBEL
Written For Associated Press

It is THAT time of year again, when uncertain shoppers hope to find a gift for their favorite outdoorsman that won't set him to ho-ho-hoing the selection.

It's not easy. Enthusiastic hunters, fishermen, hikers and campers are particular about their gear and equipment.

If they don't already have it, they often prefer to pick it out themselves to be sure to get exactly what they want.

With a few suggestions, however, the task becomes merely difficult, not impossible.

First, a few don'ts.

Unless you are extremely familiar with the person's sport, avoid buying such things as fishing rods, reels, guns or tents. They must be fitted to the individual or to his special needs and it is better, when in doubt, to let him select his own.

Don't order from national sporting goods catalogs this late unless you've dealt with the firms before and know how quickly they deliver. Few fill orders within two weeks even outside the holiday season.

On the do side, patronize sport shops or departments with qualified sales people, particularly if you're unfamiliar with the tackle or equipment you have in mind. Good advice prevents mistakes.

Assume your outdoorsman has the basic tools for his sport but that he could use a few extras to help him enjoy it more, things he would not ordinarily buy himself.

Can't Help Trial, Nixon Tells Judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica ruled today that the Watergate cover-up trial will be concluded without the testimony of former President Richard M. Nixon.

Ruling on requests that Nixon's testimony be taken by deposition, Sirica said, "The motions are denied and the trial will proceed."

Sirica announced his ruling just hours after Nixon's lawyers had argued that the former president would not be available to give a deposition until long after the date set by a team of court-appointed physicians.

The doctors had informed Sirica that the earliest they felt Nixon would be well enough to be questioned would be Jan. 6.

Nixon's lawyers argued that Jan. 6 was the earliest date the former president could begin preparing for his testimony.

Nixon is an unindicted co-conspirator in the case in which five of his former administration and campaign aides are charged with conspiring to obstruct the investigation of the Watergate break-in.

The trial opened Oct. 1 and now is expected to be concluded before Christmas.

In a response filed with Sirica, Nixon's lawyers said that while he might be healthy enough to give a deposition on that date "he is not and will not be able to prepare to give a deposition prior to that date. The time necessary for Mr. Nixon adequately to

Airport Roof Kills Many

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The roof of Tehran's airport terminal collapsed with a roar today after a heavy snowfall and the national television station reported at least 25 persons were killed. The roof fell so quickly the victims scarcely had time to scream.

Most of the casualties were believed to be Iranians.

Injured survivors staggered out of the steel and concrete rubble, blood streaming from their faces. Authorities sealed off the airport and began digging for the victims in sub-freezing weather.

Associated Press correspondent Parvis Raein witnessed the disaster and saw about 30 injured.

All international flights to and from Tehran had been canceled because of the eight-inch snowfall, so the terminal was not as crowded as usual. But up to 100 persons were believed waiting in the building for domestic flights.

Pioneer 11 Sets Trip To Titan

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — Pioneer 11 is racing toward a perilous dive through Saturn's rings on a voyage that may help pave the way for the discovery of life in outer space.

Pioneer scientists unveiled plans Wednesday to send the tiny, 570-pound spacecraft plummeting through a 15,000-mile gap between the planet and the closest of its rings in September 1979.

The course will leave the nuclear-powered vehicle with enough energy to swing around the back of Saturn, get a boost from the planet's gravitational pull, and then soar 760,000 miles to Titan, one of Saturn's moons, a day later.

For example, hand warmers, hunting knife or penknife, insulated clothing, windproof lighter, binoculars, compass, waterproof matches and case, "space" blanket, high-power flashlight, polarizing or shooting sunglasses, portable fish smoker, camp oven or waterproof watch.

In the way of reading material, books on outdoor subjects from Arctic adventure to zebra hunting are proliferating.

One of the most ambitious—and most expensive at about $40 a copy—is A.J. McClane's revised "Standard Encyclopedia of Fishing." For accuracy and thoroughness it is in a class by itself.

A magazine subscription is less expensive and the choice is wide. In addition to the general outdoor periodicals like Sports Afield, Field & Stream and Outdoor Life, there are many regional or special interest publications on the market such as Fur-Fish-Game, Camping Journal and Fishing Facts.

And for quality magazines, don't overlook organizations whose membership includes publications such as those of the Audubon Society and National Wildlife Federation.

Finally, there is a wealth of reading material available from the Ohio Department of Natural Resources. (Fountain Square, Columbus) then order as many pamphlets, maps or booklets that interest you. Most are free.

prepare for the interrogation is substantial."

The Nixon response concluded that "it would be highly unfair to require Mr. Nixon to be subjected to the interrogation proposed until a date well after Jan. 6, 1975."

The response was made public shortly before Sirica was to rule on whether Nixon's testimony must be obtained before the trial can end.

Meanwhile, Watergate prosecutors concluded their cross-examination of former White House chief of staff H. R. Haldeman.

During Haldeman's testimony on Wednesday, it was disclosed that Nixon once offered Haldeman and fellow White House aide John D. Ehrlichman money from a secret $200,000 to $300,000 fund to pay legal expenses that might arise from their involvement in Watergate.

According to partial tape transcripts made public for the first time both Haldeman and Ehrlichman declined the offer.

Nixon's lawyer, in responding to the request for the former president's deposition, said that the timetable proposed by the doctors failed to consider "the ability of Mr. Nixon ... to carefully review tapes, documents, and events so as to be prepared to answer fully and completely the interrogation proposed by defendant Ehrlichman and perhaps others."

"This trial has already covered two months with innumerable witnesses, documents, and tape recordings," the Nixon response said.

"When Mr. Nixon's fatigued and weakened condition is added to the factual complexities, it is an inexorable conclusion that Mr. Nixon must have substantial time to prepare himself for interrogation," the response continued.

Sirica has said he hopes the trial will end by Christmas.

Natural Gas Costs More

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price of natural gas is going up but not nearly enough to satisfy either the Ford administration or the gas industry.

The Federal Power Commission on Wednesday increased by nearly 20 per cent the ceiling price producers can charge for new supplies of natural gas.

The commission made its decision retroactive to June 21 and estimated the increase could add up to 2.9 per cent to this year's average residential gas bill.

At the same time, Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton urged Congress to end all price controls on new natural gas before the Christmas holidays. He estimated the end of price regulation would double or triple current wellhead prices.

"New gas deregulation is the least costly and least inflationary energy alternative available to the people of this nation," Morton told the Senate Commerce Committee.

Morton, backed by FPC chairman John N. Nassikas, rejected as "inadequate" a bill drafted by the committee that would establish price ceilings for natural gas. Morton argued it would result in a greater price rise for consumers than deregulation.

According to Morton, the ceiling levels in the draft legislation would not stimulate the additional production needed to meet current natural gas shortages, forcing consumers to switch to higher priced alternative fuels such as oil.

Demo Party Compromises Passed At Miniconvention

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Democrats have compromised two major reform issues with surprising ease at their miniconvention. They have begun putting their ranks in order for an assault on the economic policies of the Republican administration.

Diehard labor spokesmen from the party's old guard said after the Wednesday decisions they still were not satisfied. But they appeared unable to mount any effective resistance against a compromise front which included many of their own members.

The convention's rules committee overwhelmingly approved compromises on national party power over state party rules and just how close to the grass roots the new reform regulations must go. Both are expected to become part of a new Democratic party charter to be adopted over the weekend.

But even before the reform votes, the committee had agreed to make approval of a broad national economic program its first order of business at the first full convention meeting Friday night.

Reversing earlier efforts to keep controversial issues off the convention floor, the committee unanimously endorsed a proposal by party chairman Robert Strauss that the economy be brought up for debate at a prime hour.

The economic program is expected to encompass recent proposals by Democratic congressional leaders for stronger steps than President Ford has urged. It will be presented immediately after a keynote speech by House Speaker Carl Albert.

"This Democratic party has had a fine day," Strauss said after the 10-hour committee session. "Two of the most delicate points we had were passed by overwhelming majorities."

Strauss was asked whether it would go as well with the even thornier question of quotas, which are expected to be abolished and replaced with mandatory recruitment programs. He replied, "Easier."

However, a few labor delegates said Wednesday night they were not happy with the compromises and planned to meet next week with AFL-CIO President George Meany to discuss at least a token withdrawal from Democratic party affairs.

Ohio Senators Agree

See Farmers Going Deeper Into Debt

WASHINGTON (AP) — New figures by the Agriculture Department show farmers will go much deeper into debt next year, but experts say their assets also are headed for another big climb.

However, officials say those generalities by no means hold true for all farmers. Some, particularly livestock producers, will have to borrow heavily while some who had good grain harvests this year will be able to avoid flinty-eyed bankers.

"Actual developments will depend mainly on the extent of recovery in livestock prices, on the size of the feed crop harvest and on the strength of foreign demand for farm products," the department said Wednesday in a preliminary report.

A full version of the report, the Agricultural Finance Outlook, will be issued about midmonth by the department's Economic Research Service.

According to preliminary figures, total farm debt will range between $108 billion and $111 billion by Jan. 1, 1976, up from $94.9 billion estimated now for Jan. 1, 1975. At the beginning of this year farm debt was $84.1 billion.

Thus, farm debt, which includes money owed on real estate, could rise by as much as $16.1 billion in 1975. It increased $10.8 billion this year.

But the figures showed that assets — the value of all land, equipment, buildings and other items in the farm inventory — are expected to continue rising, perhaps to between $598 billion and $608 billion by Jan. 1, 1976.

That would be up by as much as $77.1 billion from a farm asset total expected Jan. 1, 1975 of about $530.9 billion and $478.8 billion at the start of this year. Much of the increase in farm assets has resulted from higher real estate prices. Those increased 25 per cent during the year ended last March 1 and are expected to rise another 15 per cent during the 1974-75 year ending next March 1.

Looking at the 1975 money market, the report said sufficient loans are expected to be available to meet farmers' demands.

Landslide Kills Men At Ironton Mine

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — A landslide at an abandoned strip mine near Ironton killed two area men on Wednesday, sheriff's deputies reported. The victims were identified as Ethan State, 18, and Charles Shope, 24, both of rural Ironton.

Deputies said the men were digging leftover coal in the mine, abandoned two or three years ago, when a rock wall caved in on them.

Wife Not Lost, Now Legislator

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Jack Fix hasn't lost a wife. He's gained a legislator.

"This is not that much different than what I've been living with and liking in the past," said Fix about the election of his wife, Helen, as the first woman legislator from Hamilton County.

Fix, who works at Procter & Gamble, said his wife's entry into state politics hasn't threatened his own career.

"We've shared outside interests before," he said. "Each is doing their thing. I don't look at it as lessening my role. It's a kind of thing, I guess, that has always been the way we've lived our life."

Mrs. Fix has been on the campaign trail since 1967 when she won a seat in the Amberley Village Council. She tried to gain a legislative seat two years ago, but after three recounts she lost a contested primary contest by 56 votes.

"It's not a matter of usurping power from men," she said. "It's a matter of sharing the responsibility."

"I think we'll see more and more women in politics as they realize they can win, when they see that women can get votes from both men and women."

Mrs. Fix said her husband played a key role in this year's campaign. He said his role was one of giving his wife support. In addition to escorting her to appearances and aiding in the sign campaign, Fix said he was there to give "her support when she came back, particularly when she was down . . . to listen when she wanted to talk."

The new legislator said she wasn't sure how she will fit into the 111th General Assembly.

"Reading about it is one thing, being there is something else," she said.

"I'm going to look and listen for awhile, then I'm going to act."

Ohio Housing Law Helpful, But No Cure-All, OHA Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's new housing law, signed Tuesday by Gov. John J. Gilligan, is seen "not as a cure all" but as an act that can increase Ohio's housing construction efforts up to 10 per cent, once implemented.

Thomas Phillips, spokesman for the Ohio Homebuilders Association, gave that evaluation of the emergency bill and said his group was pleased to see it pass now rather than await a new session of the legislature starting in January.

The bill, increasing financing powers of the Ohio Housing Development Board, was one of seven signed into law by Gilligan all emanating from a one-day lame duck legislative session Nov. 12 Gilligan first asked for the housing bill almost three years ago.

Its main feature will enable the board, if constitutional questions are resolved in the next few months as hoped, to issue up to $100 million in revenue bonds to start to channel into the slumping housing market.

Funds would be made available in the form of loans and loan guarantees, not only to developers but to individual Ohioans as well.

Prime backers of the legislation said the state could lend out the funds at lower interest rates than those on the current market, which range from 11 to 12 per cent. It would charge only enough to cover administrative costs and to retire the bonds which now cost six to seven per cent interest, they said.

"We don't see it as a cure all," Phillips said. But he said even if the board can put $100 million into the industry, it could mean a boost of about 10 per cent in current annual housing construction.

The outgoing governor also signed bills to:

—Increase qualifications for real estate salesmen's and broker's licenses and place licensing under a new agency in the Ohio Department of

Deny Danger In Sprays

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Procter & Gamble Co. officials have denied Food and Drug Administration allegations that aerosol antiperspirants containing zirconium might cause lung problems.

The denial Wednesday followed questions raised by a FDA advisory panel about possible health hazards resulting from Sure and Secret deodorants.

"The panel's concern relates to the theoretical possibility that unique zirconium complex used in our products, which they admit is safe on the skin, could possibly be broken down in the lung to form a different zirconium compound," a P&G spokesman said.

"We have extensive evidence to prove this does not happen, and we will present this evidence to the panel at a hearing in mid-December."

P&G said it had run extensive inhalation studies on its products and there was no evidence of any lung-related problems.

Crash Proves Fatal

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — Thirty-year-old C. Delmas Hughes of Temperanceville in Belmont County died early Wednesday when the car he was driving hit an icy spot on Ohio 265 and went down an embankment in Guernsey County, the sheriff's department said.

Meteor Shower, Eclipse On Tap

NEW YORK (AP) — Friday the 13th this month will be a good day for sky watchers: a partial solar eclipse for most of North America in the morning and a meteor shower that night.

For the United States, the eclipse will be most extensive in the Northeast, 60 to 70 per cent. The effect will diminish to the south and west, to 19 per cent at Los Angeles at sunrise.

After sunset that night, the sky should be lit up with "shooting" or "falling stars" — particles of matter burning up as they enter the earth's atmosphere.

Called the "Geminids," the meteors, radiating from the constellation Gemini, will increase in intensity during the night. They will reach a peak in early morning hours Saturday, with perhaps as many as 80 visible an hour. The average should be 50 an hour.

The eclipse, which begins in New York City at 9:25 a.m. EST, will be visible in North America except in the Northwest, the north coast of South America, southern Greenland, the north Atlantic Ocean, southwest Ireland, western Iberia and a small portion of the coast of northwest Africa.

No area on earth will see a total eclipse. Maximum coverage, 83 per cent, occurs at Pangnirtung, Baffin Island, Canada.

The eclipse will be visible for about three hours at locations of maximum duration, such as Boston, New York, Miami, Cleveland, and Chicago.

Extent of coverage at midpoint will be Boston 67 per cent, New York 65, Miami 37, Chicago 61, St. Louis 54, Houston 32, Denver 43, Butte 48, Tucson 22, Seattle 43 and Los Angeles 19.

But watching the partial eclipse directly can be dangerous, possibly resulting in a permanent loss of vision, warns the American Optometric Association.

The association said 134 cases of some vision loss were reported, and two persons were totally blinded, by directly watching a total solar eclipse in 1970.

Ford Asks Trade Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has urged Congress to give him trade-negotiating authority to deal with serious economic problems at home and to help avert a worldwide "crisis of the most serious proportions."

Pleading for Congress to pass the trade bill before the month is out, Ford said Tuesday the world faces problems of energy, food, inflation and recession that threaten employment and income and "menace political and security relationships that the United States has taken a generation to help construct."

"Unless we approach these problems constructively and cooperatively with our principal trading partners, we and the world may face a crisis of the most serious proportions," the President told a coalition of business, civic and government leaders lobbying for passage of the trade bill.

Ford's plea followed by hours a statement by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger that failure of Congress to approve the legislation before it adjourns around Dec. 20 would have serious effects on U.S. ability to manage its foreign political and economic policies.

Ashville Reynolds Plant May Get Control Permit

Reynolds Metals Co., Ashville, is one of 10 applicants who will be considered for water pollution control permits by the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency.

The permits specify and limit the discharge of pollutants into state waterways.

The Ohio EPA's proposal to issue NPDES permits is based upon a preliminary staff review and application of state water pollution standards and regulations.

The decision to issue the permits will become final March 3, 1975, unless an appeals hearing is requested by the applicant or interested citizens. The director of the agency may also withdraw and revise the proposed permits after consideration of the record of a public meeting, written comments, or disapproval by the U.S. EPA.

Written comments on the proposed permits may be submitted until January 2, 1975. Comments may be sent to the Ohio EPA, NPDES Permits Section, P. O. Box 1049, 361 E. Broad Street, Columbus, Ohio 43216. The Ohio EPA permit number and the public notice number should be included on the envelope and on each page of submitted comments.

A public meeting may be held if sufficient interest about the permit is shown. Interested parties may also request an appeals hearing on the proposed permit within 30 days.

The permit application, fact sheet, proposed permit, special conditions, and other documents are available for inspection at the Ohio EPA in Columbus.

Other applicants are: Lancaster Municipal Water Treatment Plant, Lancaster; A. P. Green Refractories Co., Oak Hill; Consolidated Biomedical Laboratories, Inc., Dublin; Smoke Rise Recreational Development, Athens County; Therm-O Disc, Inc., Mansfield; Suever Stone Co., Delphos; Warren-Ted Pharmaceuticals, Inc., Plain City; The Proctor & Gamble Co., Cincinnati; and Sidney Water Treatment Plant, Sidney.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Woman Is Plaguing Grandma

DEAR ABBY: I am a grandmother who met a young couple at the home of a mutual friend. I liked the young man, but his wife is simply awful! She talks incessantly and never says anything. She is also a phony. She claims to "love" ballet, art, opera, literature—you name it, and she's an "expert"—but after listening to her for a few minutes, it's apparent she doesn't know much. She is also pushy and her never-ending chatter is punctuated with obscenities, which I detest.

This couple dropped in on me without phoning first. I was shocked, but didn't want to be rude. I should have been, because they dropped in on me again, and stayed and stayed and stayed. Then they told me they had bought property very near me because they loved the area!

Abby, how do I tell them to please leave me alone? I could tolerate an occasional visit, but when they become neighbors I will be robbed of my cherished privacy. Should I tell HIM? Or her? And how do I phrase it? I can't say "Please forget that you know me. I cannot stand you!"

ORANGE CALIF.

DEAR ORANGE: Tell THEM that you are not the "dropping in" kind of neighbor and do not appreciate folks who drop in without calling first. Admit to being a bit of a "nut" on the subject to the point of being thought anti-social-but do let them know you are not kidding.

DEAR ABBY: My husband loves to hunt, and he gets positively rabid when anyone mentions any kind of gun control.

I've always hated guns, and think that handguns should not be manufactured except for use by law enforcers.

The other day my husband came home with bumper stickers on our new car. They said: "Guns don't kill people. People kill people."

I finally had to agree that those bumper stickers made a lot of sense. No?

SOOTHEED IN SYRACUSE

DEAR SOOTHEED: Prepare to become unsoothed. That bumper sticker should read, "Guns don't kill people, but people with guns kill people." Run that through your old rifle barrel a couple of times.

DEAR ABBY: Like so many others, I never expected to be writing a "Dear Abby" letter because I thought I had the perfect marriage.

I would like to tell every wife whose husband works away from home to go with him because if she doesn't, another woman is waiting to step into her shoes.

My husband worked away from home for the last three years, but he drove 100 miles extra every day so he could spend every night at home with me.

Well, six months ago he started to call me around 5 P.M. saying he was too tired to make the drive home. Finally, he confessed that he met another woman and he thinks s he's in love with her. He says he can't make up his mind between us, so we are sharing him.

I can't tell you what I have been going through, Abby. I don't know whether to tell him to stay with her and not come back, or what. My best friend says I should kick him out. My sisters says to share him until he gets tired of her.

If I ever get my husband back I will be like Ruth in the Bible. What should I do?

J. IN FLORIDA

DEAR J.: Don't make any decisions now that you might later regret. You don't say how long you've been married, or if there are children. (That could make a difference.) Get some counseling. This is too heavy to handle alone, and friends tend to tell you what they think you want to hear.

Heavy Snowfall Buries Southwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Heavy snow piled into the Southwest today as an autumn storm that dumped torrential rains on parts of southern California churned eastward. Four-inch snows whitened northern Nevada, 2 inches fell on Flagstaff, Ariz., and 3 inches sifted onto Bryce Canyon, Utah.
The snow was expected to spread into southwestern Colorado during the day.
Rain and snow showers chilled other sections of Arizona, Nevada and Utah. Rain also splashed over the northern Rockies and trailed west to the Washington coast. Drizzle drifted northward over Texas.
Although skies cleared over most of California, some southern counties remained waterlogged after two days of rain. Five to 8 inches drenched mountain areas. An inch washed San Diego through Wednesday.

Fear Wild Pigs Attacked Hunter

BURLINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky game officials were in a quandary today over what to do about a herd of wild pigs hampering the search for a missing hunter along the Ohio River near Big Bone Lick State Park.
Boone County Police Lt. Donald Stamper said the search for Edward Nichols, 21, a Florence, Ky., house painter missing since Tuesday, would resume at daylight today.
He called off the search at dusk

Kinder Key Carolers Plan Drive

Under the direction of Paul Dunkle in Circleville and Eddie Reynolds in Ashville, Kinder Key Carolers will take to the streets Dec. 11-12 to raise funds for the heart laboratory at Children's Hospital, Columbus.
Kinder Key is a woman's auxiliary group of the Columbus Children's Hospital. This is the 21st year the 100-member organization has sponsored the drive.
Kinder Key provides all supplies and handles all arrangements for caroling groups. In 1976 a totally new heart laboratory will be completed and new equipment of all types will be required. This will cost approximately $350,000.
The 1973 caroling drive raised $32,521.03, all donated to the heart laboratory project. No expenses were taken from the donations.
Last year about 20,000 people took part in the drive.

Arguments Set In Police Trial

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Final arguments were scheduled today in the extortion trials of three Newport, Ky. policemen accused of taking pay-offs from a nightclub manager and a former go-go dancer.
Assistant Police Chief Donald Faulkner, Capt. James Wells and Patrolman Jerry McClanahan are charged with extortion and conspiracy. Wells and McClanahan are also charged with perjury before a federal grand jury.
Samuel Harris, 28, key prosecution witness in the trial, took the stand again in rebuttal testimony in U.S. District Court Wednesday.
Harris said all the money he paid the police officers was bribe money.

Perk In Hospital; Suffers From Fatigue

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An aide to Cleveland Mayor Ralph Perk said Wednesday Perk has entered Cleveland Clinic Hospital suffering from fatigue.
Perk's press secretary, Ina Keegan, said doctors report there is no evidence of any heart disease and that the mayor is experiencing no pain but will stay in the hospital for further study.

Local Man Helps Plan Safety Congress

William Collins, of Circleville, was among section officials of the 45th All-Ohio Health and Safety Congress and Exhibit who met recently in Columbus to lay plans for the 1975 Congress, to be held April 14, 15, 16 and 17 at the Sheraton-Columbus Motor Hotel in the capital city.
Collins, of the Cole Nursery Co., is Chairman of the Arborists and Tree Service Operators Section.
Since its inception in 1927 the All-Ohio Health and Safety Congress and Exhibit has earned a reputation as one of the most highly regarded gatherings of industrial accident and disease prevention specialists in the nation. The four-day event is co-sponsored by The Industrial Commission of Ohio and its Division of Safety and Hygiene.
Purpose of the Congress is to aid in reducing job-related accidents and in the prevention and control of occupational disease through the exchange of information and techniques between those most vitally concerned with these problems.

Mills Certain To Lose Power; May Resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Colleagues of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills say he may resign from Congress now that he has virtually no chance of remaining chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.
The once-powerful chairman was reported heavily sedated at the Bethesda Naval Medical Center and receiving no visitors other than his wife, while congressional Democrats speculated about his future.
House Speaker Carl B. Albert left little question Wednesday about Mills' future role in Congress.
Asked at a news conference if he assumed that Mills would not be Ways and Means chairman if he returns to the 94th Congress that convenes next month, Albert replied: "I think that's a pretty accurate statement."
One of the Arkansan's closest friends in Congress, Rep. Joe D. Waggonner, D-La., said he didn't think Mills would choose to remain in the House with his power base taken from him. Other members of the committee have made similar comments in private.
Mills, 65, has presided over the committee since 1958, shaping the tax, Social Security, and health insurance programs that Congress has passed.
The congressman was hospitalized Tuesday afternoon.
The hospital refused to disclose his illness, referring all inquiries to Mills' congressional office. But aides in the office said they had not been in touch with the congressman.
Waggonner, refusing to name his source, said Mills was not allowed to receive visitors or telephone calls. He said the congressman was undergoing medical tests and treatment.
Navy Ens. Tom Browne, a hospital spokesman, said Mills was not permitted any visitors, except his wife, Polly. He said the congressman's family requested the restriction, which was also "a medical decision."
Browne would not say whether Mrs. Mills visited her husband Wednesday.

Auto Sales Still Sagging Badly

DETROIT (AP) — Americans bought 270,000 fewer cars from the nation's major auto makers during November of this year than they did during the same month of 1973. This meant a 35 per cent drop in domestic car sales by the four big U.S. auto firms.
Domestic auto sales by the four major U.S. auto makers during the past month, 505,511, were the lowest for any month of the year and compared with 775,455 they sold on the American market in November 1973.
It was the second slowest November performance for them in the domestic market in 15 years and the 14th consecutive month in which sales trailed year-earlier levels.
The four major auto makers did not release worldwide sales figures.

The domestic sales slump, which started in November 1973 with the energy crisis and tight gasoline supplies, is also the longest downturn the four major auto firms have encountered since World War II.
All four major auto makers have made sharp cutbacks in production and work forces because of reduced demand. Thirteen assembly plants are closed and 165,000 auto workers are on layoff this week.
The combined November domestic sales figure announced by the four major U.S. auto makers Wednesday was the lowest since 1959, excluding 1970, when General Motors' output was severely curtailed by a nationwide strike.

Youth Faces 3 Charges

Circleville Police Ptl. Ken Henn has charged 17-year-old Rusty Scott, 316 Watt St., with driving while intoxicated, fleeing police, and running a red light following an accident 12:24 a.m. Thursday.
According to the report, while trying to flee from Ptl. Henn, Scott was driving through an alley north of Collins Court when he failed to make a turn and ran straight into the yard of Jack McGuire, 833 Atwater Ave.
A chain link fence and lilac bush on the McGuire property were damaged.
Scott allegedly ran through the red signal at the intersection of Route 188 and Court St.
Passengers in his car were Joseph Rhoades, 19, 611 S. Washington St., and Gary Wolford, 16, 349 Barnes Ave.
No one was injured.

contending that "stockpiles of food commodities have a depressing effect on domestic and world prices and become direct costs to farmers.

"The best food reserve for the people of the world is the productive capacity of our land and the ability of the American farmer," the bureau said.

In other policy statements adopted at the meeting, the federation:

—Expressed opposition to wage and price controls.

—Suggested creation of a statewide resource policy, planning and coordinating commission for land use planning.

—Urged the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency to set standards specifically for farm pollution rather than attempt to apply industrial standards.

Leonard Schnell of Wayne County was elected to a third one-year term as president of the 61,000-member Ohio Farm Bureau Federation at the group's final convention day Wednesday.

Schnell, 49, was elected by delegates representing Ohio's 86 county farm bureaus.

A Wayne County beef and grain farmer, Schnell has been on the farm bureau board of trustees since 1966. He has been president since 1972.

Howard Skiles, Montpelier; Lynn Cupples, Bluffton; Wallace Hirschfeld, New Bremen; John Weir, Carrollton; Paul Faust, Hillsboro and Doris Smith, Hillsboro were re-elected to three-year terms on the 26-member board.

Gordon Rogers, Van Wert; David Gunlock, Chillicothe, and Barton Montgomery, Washington Court House were elected to first terms on the board.

Rogers succeeds Milo Lora, Columbus Grove; Gunlock succeeds Harold Richard, Ashville; and Montgomery succeeds Gerald Bernard of New Vienna.

All-State Class A Grid Stars Named

Rule Change On Big Ten Bowl Made

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It was the Year of the Harkraders in Ohio Class A high school football.

Jerry Harkrader, turning out his second straight small school playoff champion, earned The Associated Press Class A state Coach of the Year title.

His son, 170-pound halfback Mike Harkrader, became the first junior ever to win the Class A Ohio Back of the Year honors.

Dave Flegal, a 208-pound Windham linebacker, broke up Fenwick's domination of the Class A laurels by grabbing the Lineman of the Year award.

The selections, based solely on regular season play, were made with the recommendations of a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Jerry Harkrader was a standout player himself before turning to a successful coaching career.

The regular halfback on Ohio State's 1954 national championship team has led Fenwick into the playoffs the last three seasons, the only coach to accomplish that feat.

He built a 9-0-1 regular season record against much larger schools. The Falcons whipped five Class AAA opponents and two at the Class AA level.

His son finished with 25 touchdowns, seven of them in two playoff games. Young Harkrader had 1,445 yards rushing during the season and added 280 yards in postseason action.

Flegal, a versatile senior, quarterbacked Windham as well as starring on defense. He came up with 133 tackles, five interceptions and seven quarterback sacks from his line-backing position.

Even as a small school performer, Flegal has impressed longtime college football recruiters. Ohio State, Penn State and Michigan are among those seeking him.

Only one player, defensive tackle Doug VanAtta of Ada, made the all-state first team for the second successive year.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 1974 Associated Press Ohio Class A high school football team, based on regular season performances only and selected with the recommendations of a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters:

Whalers

Defeat Crusaders

CLEVELAND (AP)—New England Whaler Coach Ron Ryan got something he didn't expect Wednesday night—a victory.

The Whalers played their 12th straight road game minus several injured starting players and managed to defeat the Cleveland Crusaders 3-2 in a World Hockey Association game.

Here is the new formula:

—The conference champion, determined by the highest winning percentage of conference games, will go to Pasadena.

—If there is a tie, the winner of the game between the two top contenders will represent the conference.

If there still is a tie, and the two teams did not meet during the regular season, then the selection will be determined by the highest winning percentage of all games played, including nonconference games.

—If there is still a tie, the most recent team to represent the conference in the Rose Bowl will be eliminated.

In the event that more than two teams tie for the Big Ten title, the selection may be made by a vote of the athletic directors.

Detroit Pistons Top Rockets, 86-69

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You can get by in the National Basketball Association with a minimum of scoring as long as you play good defense. Take away both and what do you have?

The Houston Rockets. The Rockets have been doing neither very well of late and as a result, lost their sixth straight game Wednesday night, an 86-69 decision to the Detroit Pistons.

Houston's point total was the lowest scored in an NBA game this year and set a defensive record for the Pistons. Detroit's previous low was 78 points given up Jan. 4, 1958, to the Philadelphia 76ers.

In the other NBA games, the Boston Celtics stopped the Los Angeles Lakers 101-90; the Washington Bullets ripped the Portland Trail Blazers 114-87; the Philadelphia 76ers beat the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 109-105 and the Seattle SuperSonics stopped the Milwaukee Bucks 112-103.

The 1975 U.S. Open golf tournament is scheduled for the Medinah Country Club in Medinah, Ill. The 1976 event is set for the Atlanta A. C. in Duluth, Ga., and the 1976 test at Southern Hills, Tulsa, Okla.

Little All-Americans Selected

NEW YORK (AP) — Defensive tackle Gary Johnson of Grambling has been named to The Associated Press College Division All-America football team for the third year in a row.

Johnson was joined by four others who made the team for the second time — running back Mike Thomas of Nevada, Las Vegas, offensive guard Herb Scott of Virginia Union, center Mark King of Troy State and middle guard Glenn Fleming of Northeast Louisiana.

Thomas missed 2½ games with an ankle injury but still gained 1,408 yards and scored 17 touchdowns on the ground, plus a two-point conversion. He also caught seven passes for 131 yards and two more touchdowns.

Joining him in the offensive backfield are quarterback Jim McMillan of Boise State and running backs Walter Payton of Jackson State and Everett Talbert of Eastern Kentucky.

McMillan completed 192 of 313 passes — 61.3 per cent — for 2,900 yards and 33 touchdowns in 11 regular-season games and holds virtually every passing and total offense record in the Big Sky Conference.

Payton was 14th in the voting for the Heisman Trophy, No. 1 among College Division players. He carried 175 times this season for 1,029 yards and scored 19 touchdowns, four one-point conversions, one two-point conversion and a field goal. Talbert, a sophomore, gained 1,478 yards and had two games in which he gained more than 220 yards.

The wide receiver is Jim Myers of Kenyon and the tight end is Mike Barber of Louisiana Tech's defending NCAA College Division champions.

Although Kenyon's regular quarterback was injured for several games, Myers led the nation with 82 receptions for 1,483 yards and 12 touchdowns. Barber, who covers 40 yards in a blazing 4.4 seconds, is called by his coaches the best allround athlete on the Tech team. During the regular season he caught 26 passes for 489 yards and six touchdowns.

Joining the 245-pound Scott and the 225-pound King on the offensive line are tackles Ceasar Douglas, 270, of Illinois Wesleyan and John Passananti, 245, of Western Illinois and guard Ray Sweeney, 245, of Delaware.

Besides Gary Johnson and Fleming, the defensive unit consists of ends Jerry Dahl of North Dakota State and Cleveland Elam of Tennessee State and tackle Fred Dean of Louisiana Tech.

The linebackers are Robert Brazile of Jackson State, Mike McDonald of Catawba and Steve Yates of Western Carolina while the secondary consists of Greg Grouwinkel of Nevada-Reno, Mark Johnson of Minnesota-Duluth and Virgil Livers of Western Kentucky.

Big Trades Made At Baseball Meet

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Wherever the Baltimore Orioles are playing next year, or whoever owns them, they appear to have boosted their chances for a sixth American League East championship in seven seasons.

The Orioles completed two deals this week at major league baseball's winter meeting and Frank Cashen, general manager of the club, says: "There are four other possible trades but whether we can bring them to fruition remains to be seen."

The acquisition of switch-hitting outfielder Ken Singleton and right-handed pitcher Mike Torrez Wednesday after landing slugging first baseman Lee May Tuesday makes the Orioles look even more impressive.

However, they did have to surrender left-handed hurler Dave McNally, a clutch performer who posted 181 victories over 12-plus seasons at Baltimore. Rich Coggins, who was platooned in right field last season, and minor league pitcher Bill Kirkpatrick also moved to Montreal in the day's key transaction.

The Orioles may miss McNally, 32, who had a 16-10 record with a 3.58 earned run average, but they still possess two top southpaw starters in Mike Cuellar and Ross Grimsley and picked up a hard-throwing starter in Torrez, 28, who was 15-8 with a 3.58 ERA in 1974.

Singleton, 27, will move into the right field job at Baltimore. He hit .276 with nine homers and 71 RBI for the Expos last season after batting .302 with 103 RBI and 23 homers in 1973.

Meanwhile, expansion was on the agenda for the National League today and the American League said it most likely would discuss it, too.

Included in Wednesday's talks was the financial difficulties of the Baltimore, Oakland and San Francisco clubs. The Orioles are up for sale by owner Jerry Hoffenberger.

Kuhn reiterated his desire to have a franchise back in Washington, D.C. There's a possibility that Baltimore may play some of its games in Washington to alleviate pressure from the nation's capital.

Delegates from Seattle, Denver, Honolulu, Toronto and this host city of the convention are on hand, hopeful of landing the four new franchises which are expected to be added by 1976.

The Atlanta Braves, meantime, received word via telegram from slugger Dick Allen that he would not join their club. However, they were hopeful that the controversial first baseman, obtained from the Chicago White Sox, would change his mind since his message said in part: "At this time I must decline."

Spirits Defeat Kentucky, 126-122

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hubie Brown sees some spirit in that American Basketball Association team in St. Louis.

"I think as the year goes on, people are going to be more impressed with them," said the Kentucky coach, who was certainly impressed while losing a 126-122 decision to the Spirits Wednesday night.

Mike Barr's field goal and Freddie Lewis' three free throws in the final 38 seconds sparked the Spirits' victory.

In the ABA's other games, the Indiana Pacers stopped the Utah Stars 104-100; the San Antonio Spurs trimmed the Memphis Sounds 122-108 and the Denver Rockets hammered the San Diego Conquistadors 114-100.

Ara Parseghian is in his 11th season as Notre Dame's football coach.

Hoosiers Defeat Kansas

By ROBERT MOORE
AP Sports Writer

"I've felt that Indiana in the last three years developed one of the best basketball defenses in the country," said Kansas Coach Ted Owens after the third-ranked Hoosiers edged his seventh-ranked Jayhawks 74-70 in a dramatic overtime struggle Wednesday night.

Scott May was the star of the Indiana victory even though John Laskowski popped in the basket that put the Hoosiers ahead for keeps with 43 seconds left in the extra period.

May, who poured in 29 points, scored the first nine Indiana points in the overtime battle, one in which the lead see-sawed back and forth five times.

Time after time, Indiana, playing airtight man-for-man defense all the way, forced Kansas to take desperation shots from long range. Only the cross-country marksmanship of Dale Greenlee, Rick Suttle, Tommie Smith and Norm Cook kept it close.

Kansas was guilty of 24 turnovers and Indiana only nine.

Kansas went ahead in the overtime on Suttle's 15-foot corner shot that broke a 60-60 regulation game deadlock.

The Hoosiers, who led at one time 46-38, came right back on May's 13-footer and took the lead when May was fouled on his shot. Donnie Von Moore, who topped Kansas with 17 points, put the Jayhawks out front again, and May sank a five-footer.

The teams continued to trade baskets, and Kansas held the lead for the last time on Von Moore's 15-foot blast with a minute remaining. Laskowski came right back to settle it, hitting from 16 feet.

In other games involving the nation's ranked teams, No. 4 Maryland routed Wake Forest 99-78; ninth-ranked North Carolina smashed East Tennessee State 93-71; No. 13 Notre Dame stopped Northwestern 100-84 and Providence turned back Brown 78-75.

Maryland, playing without guard John Lucas, defeated Wake Forest for the Terps' first Atlantic Coast Conference basketball victory of the season. Guards Owen Brown and Mo Howard led the Maryland attack, scoring 27 and 26 points respectively in a game that saw the Terps trailing for most of the time.

North Carolina got 21 points from sophomore forward Walter Davis to beat East Tennessee State. The Tar Heels carried a 45-29 lead into the second half, but East Tennessee cut the lead to nine points on three occasions, the last time at 65-56 with nine minutes left.

Adrian Dantley scored a career-high 44 points, leading Notre Dame over Northwestern. Dantley's performance overshadowed the 37 points by Northwestern's Billy McKinney, also a career high.

Down by five points with 3:42 remaining, Providence rallied to beat Brown. It was the 31st straight defeat of Brown at the hands of the Friars. Providence caught up on the free-throw shooting of freshman Pete Eason and junior Mark McAndrew. The Bruins, behind by a point, 42-41 at halftime, had taken a 69-64 lead with 3:42 to play.

Chicago Black Hawks Top Kansas City, 7-3

By The Associated Press

The expansion Kansas City Scouts continue to play expansion hockey.

The Chicago Black Hawks pumped in six first-period goals against the Scouts Wednesday night and coasted to a 7-3 National Hockey League triumph.

It was Kansas City's fifth straight loss and dropped their season's slate to 4-19-1. The only club with a worse record is the Washington Capitals — the league's other expansion entry.

Mary Dum Dum Wins Feature At Latonia

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Mary Dum Dum won the featured pace mile at Latonia Wednesday night by two lengths in 2:09 and paid $8, $4.40 and $3.20.

Barney Volo placed, $8.20 and $3.20 and Have No Regrets was third, $3.

Patrick Counsel combined 5-6 with Laura's Birthday for $31.20 in the daily double and the crowd of 1,165 bet $123,863.

The Montreal Canadiens have won hockey's Stanley Cup six times in the past 10 years.

2 Michigan Teams Clash In MAC Tilt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Western Michigan jumped to an early lead and went on to overpower Eastern Michigan 80-65 Wednesday night in the only Mid-American Conference basketball game scheduled.

Jeff Tyson's jump shot early in the first half gave Western the lead, and the Broncos held onto it with a balanced scoring attack that put four players in double figures.

The score was tied four times in the opening minutes until the 7:16 mark, when Tyson's shot gave the Broncos their 15-14 lead. By halftime, they'd stretched that to 43-31.

Western is now 1-0 in the MAC, while the Hurons dropped to 0-2 in both conference and overall play.

In Charlottesville, Va., a fumbling Kent State yielded 25 turnovers and gave Virginia a 58-40 nonconference victory.

The game was tied 24-24 at the half, but Kent State's deliberate offense fell apart after intermission and the Cavaliers pulled away for the victory.

In another nonconference game, Bowling Green broke an 88-88 tie in overtime and defeated independent Cleveland State 93-90 Wednesday night.

Cleveland State was down 82-76 with 39 seconds left, but two layups by Ted Hathaway and one by Gale Drummer tied the score at 82-all and put the game into overtime.

The score went to 88-88, but Skip Howard made a threepoint play to give the Falcons the victory.

Xavier Rips Indiana-Purdue In Cage Tilt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cincinnati Xavier swamped Indiana-Purdue 88-43 in Ohio college basketball action Wednesday night, with five players hitting in double figures.

Xavier led 44-21 at halftime and allowed Indiana-Purdue only 11 points for 16 minutes in the second half. It was the lowest point total by a Xavier opponent since 1961 when Xavier defeated Yale 72-39.

In Ohio Conference play, the Muskies of Muskingum shot 51.2 per cent from the floor to down Otterbein 56-46. It was the first conference game for both teams.

Defiance senior forward Bob Martin pumped in 24 points to lead Defiance to a 97-78 victory over Wilmington in HoosierBuckeye Conference play.

Kent State of the Mid-American Conference lost to Virginia 58-40 in a nonconference game, while Bowling Green defeated Cleveland State 93-90 in overtime.

In the only MAC conference game scheduled, Western Michigan overpowered Eastern Michigan 80-65.

Slippery Rock held onto a slim lead in overtime as Ashland College ran out of time and yielded to the Rockets 81-80.

Grid Picker Sees Vikings Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Maybe Oakland is the reason why there is such a close race in the AFC East — because the AFC East champion must play the Raiders in the first round of the playoffs. The wild-card team, provided it survives the first week, wouldn't have to think about Oakland until at least Dec. 29 — if then.

Anyway, Buffalo, Miami and New England are still in the running from the AFC East for the playoffs. The Bills are already assured of the playoffs and the Dolphins need only to beat the lowly Baltimore Colts on Sunday to gain the playoffs. That would narrow both the title and the wild card race to Miami and Buffalo.

The old Pro Pigsaw Picker was foiled by some of last week's stunners and wound up with eight correct calls and five incorrect. However, the Upset Special of the Week — Philadelphia over Green Bay — came through and the New York Jets-San Diego call — Jets 27-14 — was right on the nose. The season's showing is now 104-51-1 for .671.

On Saturday:

ATLANTA (2-10) at MINNESOTA (8-4): The Falcons are closing in on the NFL record for the fewest points scored in a 14-game season. Anyway ... VIKINGS 34, FALCONS 10.

CLEVELAND (4-8) at DALLAS (7-5): You can bet the Cleveland defensive team has been studying films of Clint Longley ... COWBOYS 26, BROWNS 16.

And always on Sunday:

GREEN BAY (6-6) at SAN FRANCISCO (4-8): The oddsmakers were a lot of help with this one. "Pick 'em," they said ... PACKERS 13, 49ERS 10.

BUFFALO (9-3) at NEW YORK JETS (5-7): The Jets are riding high and the Bills really don't want to play Oakland, so, here's this week's Upset Special. ... JETS 22, BILLS 19.

PITTSBURGH (8-3-1) at NEW ENGLAND (7-5): The Patriots already know what it's like to play Oakland ... STEELERS 31, PATRIOTS 18.

ST. LOUIS (9-3) at NEW ORLEANS (4-8): It will be the New Orleans Blues when the game ends ... CARDINALS 34, SAINTS 17.

MIAMI (9-3) at BALTIMORE (2-10): The Dolphins really may not mind playing Oakland the first week in the playoffs after all ... DOLPHINS 30, COLTS 10.

PHILADELPHIA (5-7) vs. NEW YORK GIANTS (2-10) at New Haven: ... EAGLES 24, GIANTS 21.

DETROIT (6-6) at CINCINNATI (7-5): The loser automatically is out of the playoffs ... BENGALS 21, LIONS 17.

OAKLAND (10-2) at KANSAS CITY (5-7): Anyway ... RAIDERS 28, CHIEFS 17.

HOUSTON (6-6) at DENVER (6-5): Broncos are favored by four but watch out for those Oilers. So, in Upset Special No. 2 ... OILERS 27, BRONCOS 24.

CHICAGO (4-8) at SAN DIEGO (3-9): ... BEARS 10, CHARGERS 9.

And then there's the last Monday of the NFL season:

WASHINGTON (8-4) at LOS ANGELES (9-3): Maybe signing Beatrice Arthur (Maude) and Valerie Harper (Rhoda) to work on the Monday night team with Howard Cosell next season would get the ratings back ... RAMS 21, REDSKINS 20.

HOCKING KILL—Vernon Boltenhouse, Route 4, holds the head of an eight-point deer he shot in Hocking County Tuesday. Boltenhouse, hunting by himself, missed on the first shot, but nailed the animal with a second shot. He pulled the deer by himself to the car and a passer-by helped load it on the vehicle.

3 Defendants Receive Suspended Sentences

Three persons received suspended sentences to penal institutions Wednesday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court. A fourth defendant appearing during the morning's session of court was sentenced to three concurrent terms at the Ohio Penitentiary.

Gary Slone, Columbus, appeared before Judge William Ammer and withdrew a previously entered plea of not guilty to a charge of gross sexual imposition. He entered a guilty to the charge and the court proceeded with sentencing. A 1-10 year term in the penitentiary was suspended and Ammer ordered the man committed indefinitely to the Department of Mental Health and Retardation.

Another Columbus man, Robert Kroger, appeared before the court for sentencing after conviction of breaking and entering and grand theft. Judge Ammer had ordered a pre-sentence report to be prepared earlier on him and reviewed that before passing the sentence.

Kroger was sentenced to 1-5 years at the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield on each count. The court then suspended the sentence and placed Kroger on probation for a period of three years.

A similar sentence was passed on Ben Thomas, Ashville, convicted of cultivating an hallucinogen. He ap-

Operators Of Control Tower Concerned About Public Safety

By GUY LEATHERWOOD
For The Herald

Wink Wellington is concerned about the safety of the public while crossing the railroad. He has witnessed some bad wrecks and other near misses. At one time there was a semi-truck stopped on the crossing and another one rammed it.

The trailer of the second one blocked both the East Bound and the West Bound tracks. At that time there was no radio communication with the train crew. Wink threw the red signal but there wasn't time for the train to stop and part of the trailer came through the door.

Then there was a Sunday about four or five years ago when a train hit an auto at Washington Street at about 2:30 p.m. The train carried the auto to Court Street on the "cowcatcher". Wink told the engineer that he had a car on his train. The engineer said "I haven't got him—you have." The car had come off the train and was laying on the other track. Fast train No. 84 was coming and it was Wink's problem to get him stopped in time before he hit the wrecked automobile. He was able to get the fast freight train stopped and thus prevented another accident. The body of an occupant of the car was lying on the track.

Then there was the case of the twelve year old girl riding a four year old on her bicycle. An East Bound train (actually southbound) hit the bicycle at Pickaway Street and took the back wheel off. When a policeman arrived the little girls were sitting by the railroad crying.

One of the things that Wink says makes his ulcer act up is the disregard of the public of the danger. There can be four trains in town at the same time and if one doesn't realize that after one passes going one way that another going the other way could mow him down, this could easily happen. Recently Wink yelled at a youngster on a bike who was in danger of being killed this way. The train missed him by about two feet.

With the automated system activated, the public must realize that even though the signals are properly installed it is their duty to maintain proper vigilance. There are no operators to keep an eye on them also.

Dick Wellington told me that about a year ago that a freight car lost its rear wheels near the General Electric Plant. The train was dragging the car without the wheels. The Superintendent, Mr. Hale, said to Dick "I'll bet you thought your teaching days were over." Dick said "I thought all my days were over." Dick is one of those rare individuals who works two full time responsible jobs and does them both well. He is a business and commercial teacher at Westfall High School. He teaches school and then reports for his eight hour shift at 4 p.m. at the tower. He has been doing this for about 15 years. Quite a record I would say. He was in the Signal Corps in the armed services in World War II.

DICK WELLINGTON

What are these fine employees doing after their railroading days are over? Well, Wink is the genial clothing salesman at Keith's Clothing Store. Dick continues teaching and hopes to catch up on his golf. He said he always did think it would be nice to work just one job. No doubt the other two will find something interesting to occupy their time. Wink is eligible to retire. All will receive severance pay since their jobs are being eliminated. Wink has spent most of his working life at this tower but it is a nice way to be put out to pasture.

This article would hardly be complete without a few more words about the remarkable parents of Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb. His father and mother met as fellow-railroaders and had six years experience before joining the N&W. They were first employed as extra operators on the Scioto Division in September, 1899.

They spent many years of their life as operators at the Circleville tower. Mrs. Marguerite Lamb worked the day shift (8 a.m.-4 p.m.) and was followed on duty by her husband Montrey who worked 4 p.m. until midnight.

Mrs. Lamb spent 39 years with the railroad and enjoyed every one of them, she said.

In 1924 Mrs. Lamb was commended "for prompt action in handling (interlocking) the plant at Circleville, preventing a runaway caboose from being derailed. She had a clear record when she retired in 1939. She lived to celebrate her 100th birthday and received messages from Gov. Rhodes and President Johnson on that occasion. She died at the age of 101.

I was permitted to read a handwritten message that Mrs. Lamb transmitted while in service as a railroad telegraph operator. It said:

Shooting Victim 'Improves'

Doctor's Hospital, North authorities report that James Seymour, 21, Laurelville, is listed in improved but "poor" condition, following a shooting incident, Tuesday evening in South Bloomingville.

According to Hocking County Sheriff Paul Hartman, Seymour and Kenneth Woodgeard were talking, when Woodgeard shot Seymour with a .22 calibre revolver.

The bullet lodged in Seymour's chest.

Felonious assault charges have been filed against Woodgeard.

New Rocky Loan Surfaces

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President-designate Nelson A. Rockefeller is returning to hearings on his confirmation to face heavy questioning about potential conflicts of interest and a $30,000 loan.

Rockefeller appears today as the last witness before the House Judiciary Committee, where a central issue has been his potential conflict of interest because of the Rockefeller wealth.

The nominees' brother, Laurance, disclosed to the committee Wednesday that he loaned then-Republican National Chairman William E. Miller $30,000 in 1961 at Nelson Rockefeller's suggestion.

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., hoped to complete the hearings today and vote possibly next Tuesday on sending Rockefeller's nomination to the House for final action the week before Christmas.

The Senate is to vote next Tuesday afternoon with confirmation virtually certain. The 38-member House committee appears to hold a dozen votes against Rockefeller at most.

The Senate Rules Committee concluded in a report released Wednesday that Rockefeller used poor judgment in some cases but had done nothing to disqualify him for the vice presidency.

Laurance Rockefeller's belated disclosure of the $30,000 Miller loan drew heavy fire Wednesday from Democrats on the House committee who said the Rockefellers should have known such loans have been a major concern of both committees.

Layoffs In State Reach 33,690

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The number of workers expected to be laid off in Ohio by the end of the year rose to 33,690 with the addition of 1,100 furloughs at the RCA Corp. plant at Findlay on Wednesday.

The employees, who make transistors and other electronic components, will be out of work for five working days after Dec. 20. The plant employs about 1,900.

Another 380 hourly workers at the plant will be laid off Friday for an indefinite period.

Meanwhile, Centrex Corp. of Findlay will lay off 153 employees for short periods over the next month. The plant produces appliances.

Top Tobacco Brings $120 Per Basket

RIPLEY, Ohio (AP)—Top baskets brought $120 per hundred pounds Wednesday at Ohio's only tobacco auction market.

Average price was up $5 at $117.59 while farmers sold 538,710 pounds for $621,733.44.

criminal penalties for marijuana users.

John R. Bartels Jr., head of the Drug Enforcement Administration, disclosed in an interview that the project was launched about three months ago. It was begun after officials became alarmed at a startling increase in the number of persons arrested for possessing small amounts of the drug, he said.

Bartels said that Deputy Atty. Gen. Laurence Silberman directed the policy planning offices of the department and DEA to undertake the study. DEA is a Justice Department agency.

The goal is to determine whether there's a way to end the threat of jail sentences and criminal records for thousands of young people while maintaining a strong legal deterrent to marijuana use, Bartels said.

He emphasized, however, that he strongly opposes legalizing marijuana use and that he believes the drug is a serious health hazard.

The department review comes amid other indications that the Ford administration is leaning toward softer punishment for users.

Dr. Robert L. DuPont, head of the White House Special Action Office for Drug Abuse Prevention, last month urged an end to criminal penalties. The U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia, Earl J. Silbert, attempted to stop prosecuting those arrested for possessing less than one gram of marijuana, but rescinded the decision after Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe disapproved.

Bartels said, however, he does not expect a substantive change in administration policy although "there may be a slight change in emphasis."

He said the department review was discussed routinely with DuPont but that the White House has not been involved in any other way.

Department officials are concerned that the number of persons arrested for possessing marijuana for personal use has jumped from 18,000 in 1965 to about 400,000 last year, Bartels said.

Bartels said the major approach under review is a civil penalty such as the year-old Oregon law which sets a maximum $100 fine for possessing less than an ounce of marijuana. Police issue citations similar to traffic tickets and violators do not acquire a criminal record because of the arrest.

Federal law currently makes marijuana possession a misdemeanor punishable by up to one year in prison. But most marijuana arrests come under state laws which vary in severity.

Annual Grange Banquet Slated

The Granges in Pickaway County will hold their annual banquet Saturday evening, December 7, at the grange building on the fairgrounds.

The carry-in dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. and will be followed by a program as arranged by the lecturers of the local grange bodies.

The toastmaster for the event will be Frank Lands, Pomona Grange Master. Speaker for the evening will be H. E. Starkey, past gatekeeper of the Ohio State Grange.

All grange members and friends are invited to this event using the theme "Our Heritage".

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to this stars.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Some plans may have to be changed whether you like it or not. Be composed, however, for you may well profit by the change. Keep your sense of humor sharp.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Going it alone will not be the answer now. There are definite areas where you will have to associate with, plan with others. Teamwork!

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Direct your innate enthusiasm into progressive channels. You can accomplish more than many others during this period. Especially favored: written matters and travel plans.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): A time for some introspection. Through reflection, you will get a clearer view of the road ahead, to make plans for further accomplishment and satisfaction.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Discretion should be your watchword. Keep disposition even in order to cope with the ruffled ones you meet — and there may be several.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Take care in counselling others, imparting information. Avoid arguments as such but discuss calmly important situations, transactions.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Do not become disillusioned if some disapprove of your ideas and are unwilling to fall in with your plans. If understanding and tolerant, you just COULD bring them around.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Make no decisions until all avenues have been explored. Should temporary deterrents appear, handle discerningly, with clear-headedness, smart control.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Your ingenuity, foresight and intuition should be at a peak now. A good time to look into new offerings and gauge their real value.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Stellar influences now warn against misleading influences, deceit and dubious schemes. Be alert and counteract with your innate integrity and good judgment.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): If you really have time for "extras" on a busy day, take them on judiciously. Don't overtax energies and don't hesitate to ask for help if you find yourself in a bind.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Plenty of competition about, but don't let it dismay you. Anchor your sails to the well-founded and engage opponents with enthusiasm.

YOU BORN TODAY are among the few Sagittarians who would probably make a greater success in the arts or one of the professions than in the business world. Literature, painting, music and (or) the theater should have great appeal to you, but you could also succeed, if properly trained, in the law, statesmanship or science. Your loyalty, integrity and generosity are outstanding. Birthdate of: J. L. Gay-Lussac, Fr. physicist, chemist; Warren Hastings, 1st Gov.-Gen'l, Brit. India; Dave Brubeck, jazz pianist; Agnes Moorehead, film and TV star.

When the boy comes to collect . . .

When your carrierboy comes to collect, please make sure you're ready. With the right change, if possible, he'll appreciate it with a broad smile and a "Thank you".
You see, because he is in business for himself, your newspaperboy depends on the full collection of his route for his full profit.
Repeat calls mean extra work with no extra profit. So—give the boy a break. And thanks!

When basking in the sunlight, the tree-dwelling ruffed lemur of the Malagasy Republic stretches out its legs and turns its face toward the sun. Because of this habit, natives formerly believed that they were holy animals who worshipped the sun and were not to be hunted, says Grzimek's Animal Life Encyclopedia.

House Panel OKs Loans To Railroads

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill authorizing $2 billion in federally backed loans for railroads has been approved by the House Rules Committee as it reversed an earlier vote against the legislation.

The measure, expected to reach the House for action later this week, won on a voice vote Tuesday that reversed last week's 9-6 rejection of the bill, called the Surface Transportation Act of 1974.

It would provide guaranteed loans for railroads to improve their trackage and physical plants and increase freight-car fleets. It also would make some major regulatory revisions for all kinds of surface transportation, including rails, trucks and barges.

The bill would ban any discriminatory state or local taxation of transit property, giving these governments three years to equalize their tax structure.

Meanwhile, the Penn Central railroad said it will file a petition in bankruptcy court asking permission to draw on $30 million in federal funds made available under the Regional Rail Reorganization Act. The railroad's trustees said the money is needed to maintain adequate levels of service during December and part of next year.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS PICKAWAY COUNTY, OHIO PROBATE DIVISION

Otis Williams, Guardian of the Person and Estate of Anna Mock, an incompetent person, vs. Plaintiff, Defendants.

No. 74-25847A
NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE.

In pursuance of the order of the Common Pleas Court, Probate Division, of Pickaway County, Ohio, I will offer for sale at public auction on the 9th day of December, 1974, at 2 o'clock, p.m. at the door of the Pickaway County Courthouse, Circleville, Ohio, the following described real estate, to-wit:

TRACT ONE:
Situating in the County of Pickaway, Village of Ashville, and State of Ohio and bounded and described as follows:

Being Lot Number Twenty-nine (29) in Powell's First Addition to the Village of Ashville, Ohio, (Located at 44 E. Harrison Ave., Ashville, Ohio).

TRACT TWO:
Situating in the Township of Scioto, County of Pickaway and State of Ohio and bounded and described as follows:

(West Tract)
Beginning at a stone in the center of the Miller Road, said stone being the southeast corner to the land of Lloyd Melvin; thence N. 76 degrees 35' E. 1282 feet with the center of said road to a 3/4 inch iron pin; thence N. 12 degrees 40' W. 1404 feet with the west line of Minnie Williams and Roy Williams land to a stone; thence S. 76 degrees 02' W. 1212.6 feet with the south line of Doctor Ginder land to a stone; thence S. 9 degrees 51' E. 1394.5 feet with the east line of the land of Lloyd Melvin to the place of beginning, containing 40 acres of land, more or less. All being in Original Survey No. 4013.

TRACT THREE:
Situating in the Township of Scioto, County of Pickaway and State of Ohio and bounded and described as follows:

(East Tract)
Beginning at a stone in the center of the Miller Road, said stone being the S. E. corner to the land of Roy Williams; thence N. 75 degrees 21' E. 2086.5 feet, with the center of said road to a stone; thence N. 13 degrees 55' W. 1715.4 feet, with the west line of the land of George Gordon, to a stone; thence S. 75 degrees 11' W. 2095.7 feet, with the south line of the lands of Walker and Ginder to a steel post; thence south 13 degrees 44' E. 1709 feet with the east line of Roy Williams to the place of beginning, containing 82.38 acres of land, more or less. All being in Original Survey Number 4013.

Said premises are appraised at $12,000 for Tract One, $24,000 for Tract Two, and $49,434 for Tract Three and must be sold for not less than two-thirds (2/3) of the appraised value. The terms of sale are ten (10) percent down payment, the balance to be paid upon delivery of the deed; and Tract One is to be sold separately while Tract Two and Tract Three are to be sold first separately and then as a whole to determine the manner in which said real estate can bring the maximum amount of money.

productive session with more compatibility between majority Democrats and James A. Rhodes, the GOP governor-elect, than some expect.

"Jim can work with Democrats," said House Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg. "I think we have the opportunity for a lot of constructive legislation."

Speaker Pro Tem Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, also appeared optimistic. "I can work with him," he said. "If he really wants to try to solve the problems of this state he can count on my cooperation."

Riffe is known as an effective political in-fighter and many feel he is cut from the same cloth as Rhodes. A 49-year-old insurance man beginning his ninth two-year term in the
